Eileen May Named Senior Vice President of Operations at Scientific Voice

CHICAGO, IL—August 27, 2009—Scientific Voice, a leading provider of biopharma speaker bureau and program management services, today announced that Eileen May has been named Senior Vice President of Operations. Scientific Voice is a Publicis Strategic Solutions Group company.

In her new role, May manages all day-to-day operational aspects of the business with an emphasis on operational excellence, and provides leadership to the operations teams and client services groups. May reports to Laura Lynner, Chief Operating Officer, Publicis Strategic Solutions Group.

“We are very fortunate to have Eileen in this crucial leadership role,” said Lynner. “In this position, she will lead the development of operational processes and standards, manage the operations teams, and will be deeply engaged with technology groups and client services,” she added.

May has more than 10 years’ experience in the healthcare/pharmaceutical industry, holding positions of increasing responsibility in public relations, customer service, and operations. “Eileen’s extensive background in speaker bureau implementation, transition management, and operations enables her to easily understand clients’ needs and implement comprehensive solutions. Her skills in leadership, team building, strategic problem solving, project implementation, and communications ensure that client projects move efficiently from conceptualization to launch,” said Lynner.

May’s previous experience includes numerous roles at Advogent (formerly Cardinal Health), including Senior Director of Operational Services, Director of Operations, and Operations Manager. She has also served in operations and project management positions with Cowan and Joseph and JPMorgan Chase.

May holds a Bachelor of Science degree in Communications from Flagler College in St. Augustine, Florida. She is a member of the Project Management Institute.
